P. S. I shall have the above land surveyed agreeable to entry on the succeeding day. W. H.

BLANK DEEDS, ON FANCY AND PAPER, FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.

Notice.

THE co-partnership of ELISHA WINTERS, and Co. having expired, they offer for SALE the following property:—

A complete and well-chosen assortment of DRY GOODS, well adapted to the present and approaching Season, by wholesale or retail, at a very low advance. Also, an assortment of GROCERIES.

A two story BRICK HOUSE on Main-street, an excellent situation for business.—That valuable and well known tract or parcel of LAND, situated at the mouth of Tate's creek, 15 miles from Lexington, on the main road leading to Madison county, containing 1000 acres; 200 of which is excellent bottom, the remainder hilly, but well timbered; 80 acres cleared, and five acres in timothy meadow, and twenty more can be made and watered with very little expense.—On the upper part of this tract is erected a MERCHANDISE and CATTLE MILL—the situation is perfectly secure either from back water from the river, or floods in the creek.—The house is fifty feet by forty with four floors.—The merchant mill has a fifteen feet pitch back water wheel, double geared.

French Burr Stones, with bolting, boiling, screening, fanning and packing work, by water.—The Grist mill has a 12 feet water wheel, over-shaft and double geared; the whole new and in complete order.—The water empties from these mills into a pond; whereon floats a saw mill in good repair, and a new hemp mill.—There is also on the premises, a new framed Dwelling House, kitchen and store house with a number of useful cabbins, and a large and never failing spring convenient; a Rock-Walk covered 250 feet, and may be extended over a level piece of ground 150 fathoms with every apparatus suitable for manufacturing cordage; a young bearing peach orchard; also a number of bearing apple trees.

A DISTILLERY within forty yards of the mills, with over head waters.—Three STILLs containing about 375 gallons, with every thing necessary for distilling.

A WAGON, with four good horses. A few head of cattle, and a large flock of hogs.

As the above property is situated in a thick settled fertile part of the country, where the greatest abundance of produce may be collected, and the land abounds with good timber for boat building, and a very convenient spot for that purpose on the bank of the river Kentucky.—It is evident that boats for the Mississippi trade, can be built and loaded at the mouth of Tate's creek with more convenience, less expense and greater dispatch than at any other landing in the State.—

The mills are now well supplied with seasoned flower barrels; and there is six boats on the stocks, that may be finished in a short time.—

The purchaser can have choice of two or three if required.—The payments will be made easy, and the greater part received annually in produce.

CONGRESS.

Thursday December 17.

This day at twelve o'clock, the House of Representatives waited on the President, and Presented the followi

ADDRESS.

In answer to his Speech to both houses at the opening of the session :

To the President of the United States,

SIR,

As the representatives of the people of the United States, we cannot but participate in the strongest felicitity to every blessing which they enjoy, and cheerfully join with you in profound gratitude to the author of all good, for the numerous and extraordinary blessings which he has conferred on our favoured country.

A final and formal termination of the distressing war which has ravaged our northwestern frontier, will be an event which will afford satisfaction proportioned to the anxiety with which it has long been sought, and in the adjustment of the terms, we perceive the true policy of making them satisfactory to the Indians as well as to the United States, as the best basis of a durable tranquillity. The disposition of such of the southern tribes as had also heretofore annoyed our frontier, is also her prospect in our situation so important to the interest and happiness of the United States, that it is much to be lamented that any clouds should be thrown over it, more especially by the excesses on the part of our own citizens.

While our population is advancing with a celerity which exceeds the most sanguine calculations—while every part of the U. S. displays indications of rapid & various improvement—while we are in the enjoyment of protection and security; by mild and wholesome laws, administered by governments founded on the genuine principles of rational liberty, a secure foundation will be laid for accelerating, maturing, and establishing the prosperity of our country; if by the treaty and amicable negotiation, all those canals of external discord which heretofore menaced our tranquillity, shall be extinguished on terms compatible with our national rights and honor, and with our constitution, and great commercial interests.

Among the various circumstances in our internal situation, none can be viewed with more satisfaction or exultation, than that the late scene of discord and insurrection, has been completely relieved to the enjoyment of order & repose. Such a triumph of reason and of law, is worthy of the free government under which it happened, and was justly to be hoped from the enlightened and patriotic spirit which pervades and actuates the people of the United States.

In contemplating that spectacle of national happiness which our country exhibits, and of which you, sir, have been pleased to make an interesting summary; permit us to acknowledge and declare the very great share which your zealous and faithful services have contributed to it, and to express the affectionate attachment which we feel for your character.

The several interesting subjects which you recommend to our consideration will receive every degree of attention which is due to them. And while we feel the obligation of temperance and mutual indulgence in all our difficulties, we trust and pray that the result to the happiness and welfare of our country, may correspond with the pure affection we bear to it.

THE ANSWER

Gentlemen,

Coming as you do from all parts of the United States, I receive great satisfaction from the concu-rence of your testimony in the justness of the interesting summary of our national happiness, which as the result of my enquiries, I presented to your view. The sentiments we have mutually expressed of profound gratitude to the source of those numerous blessings—the author of all good—are pledges of our obligations to unite our sincere and zealous endeavours, as the instruments of Divine Providence, to preserve and perpetuate them.

Accept, gentlemen, my thanks for your declaration, that to my agency you ascribe the enjoyment of a great share of these blessings. So far as my services contribute to the happiness of my country, the acknowledgement thereof by my fellow citizens, and their affectionate attachment, will ever prove an abundant reward.

Go, WASHINGTON.

KENTUCKY.

An Act concerning Arbitrations.

WHEREAS experience has suggested, that great inconveniences do arise to the citizens of this Commonwealth, by reason that many factors are employed, with enormous expences, and the final determination of their disputes protracted to a tedious length of time, which operates almost to a total denial of justice: for remedy whereof.

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly, that it shall and may be lawful for all persons defendants to end any controversy or suit by arbitration, mutually to agree to submit the said controversy or suit to the decision and determination of any person or persons whom the said party to contending shall choose. And they are hereby authorized to nominate the person or persons to be chosen, together with the nature of the dispute to be chosen, signifying the nature of the dispute, that is to them submitted, and they are hereby authorized and empowered by a subpoena or subpoena under the hand and seal of them or either of them, directed to any person or persons, who shall execute the same, to cause to come before them at any time or place which they may choose, any person or persons, whom either of the parties to contending may require, as well without as within the county, to give evidence touching the premises, which witnesses or witnesses so summoned, shall be subjected to the same penalty and forfeiture for failing to attend and give evidence as they would be for failing to attend and give evidence in any court of judicature within this Commonwealth.

§ 2. And be it further enacted, that the arbitrators so chosen, before they enter on the investigation of such dispute, shall take an oath of affirmation, impartially to try and determine the dispute to them referred, according to law, evidence and the equity of the case, without favor or affection, to the best of their judgment; which oath shall be administered by any justice of the peace of the county. And if such arbitrators so chosen, shall have power to hear and determine all matters of dispute, to them referred, in the most speedy manner that the nature of the case will admit; and they are hereby authorized to give to each of the contending parties, one written copy of their award in full, and also to make a return of one other copy, under his or their hand or seal or seals, to the clerk of the court from which the order before mentioned did issue, which shall be entered of record, and become a final and decision of all and every controversy or suit to them submitted, and be made a decree of such court, and shall not be invalidated, unless it shall be made appear to such court, that such award, arbitration, or umpirage, was procured by corruption or other undue means, or that there was evident partiality in the arbitrators or umpires, or any of them; and any award, arbitration, or umpirage procured by corruption, or other undue means, or where there shall have been such evident partiality as aforesaid, such award may be set aside, and the party injured may thereupon appeal to the court of appeals, and to no other court whatever. Provided nevertheless, that the said appeal be made within three months after the return of the said award, and notice given to the defendant or defendants or their agents.

§ 3. And be it further enacted, that if the appeal be refused, that not be made within the time aforesaid, the court to which the award has been returned, are hereby authorized and required to award execution thereupon in the same manner as if a regular final had been indicated and Judgment had thereupon.

§ 4. And be it further enacted, that the clerks shall be allowed two dollars for making each of the records by this act directed, and no more; and the same fees for issuing execution and recording return, as is allowed in other cases in such court.

§ 5. And be it further enacted, that the arbitrators appointed in conformity to this act, shall be allowed for their services, nine shillings per day, if demanded. And all witnesses summoned and attending, shall be allowed the same pay for traveling and attending, as they are now allowed for traveling and attending the courts of quarter sessions.

§ 6. And be it further enacted, that no award given by the arbitrators, chosen as aforesaid, shall be set aside for want of form, when such award contains the substance of what was intended by such arbitrators. This act shall commence and be in force from and after the passage thereof.

An Act apportioning the representation among the several counties. Approved Dec. 19 1795.

BE it enacted by the General Assembly, that until it shall be altered by the legislature, the house of representatives shall be composed of fifty six members, to be elected from the several counties agreeably to a ratio of one member for every three hundred and thirty qualified electors within each county: that is to say, the county of Jefferson shall elect two representatives, the county of Nelson four representatives, the county of Shelby two representatives, the county of Harlan one representative, the county of Logan two representatives, the county of Greene one representative, the county of Washington two representatives, the county of Lincoln three representatives, the county of Mercer four representatives, the county of Madison four representatives, the county of Clarke four representatives, the county of Fayette seven representatives, the county of Woodford two representatives, the county of Scott two representatives, the county of Bourbon six representatives, the county of Mason five representatives, the county of Harrison two representatives, the county of Franklin two representatives, and the county of Campbell one representative. If before the next apportionment of representation made by the legislature, a new county shall be erected not entitled by its number of qualified electors agreeably to the ratio now fixed to a separate representation it shall be considered for the purpose of representation, as a part or parts of the county or counties, from which it shall be taken.

This act shall commence and be in force from the passage thereof.

Lexington, February 6.

[FROM A LONDON PAPER.]

Extract of a letter from Little Pern, county of Wicklow, Ireland, October 1795. "Gold continues to be found in the same place in considerable quantities; a poor boy that had been taken from the work house, found a single piece valued at 17l. 15s. 3d. a humane gentleman took care of it for the boy: he gave the boy's mother four guineas to buy a cow, and intends the rest for an apprentice fee for him—Three labourers living on that estate, got a piece of the amazing weight of 22 ounces; it was got in boggy ground; the first was found in gravel. Thomas Farrell, and four others in partnership, got six ounces and a quarter in pieces of quartz; a tenant on the land, one Rusley, got two large pieces in swampy ground (where it is evident the stream formerly flowed); these pieces were not weighed; he refuted 15 guineas and a crown for them: he demanded 13 guineas. The women, who are numerous, gather the gravel in bogs and wash it: they have got a considerable quantity among them: it is very fine, in general the size of a finger stone. On Thursday and Friday there were at least 1000 people there, 250 or 300 of them were working: they have now begun to dig deeper than at first; all the above large pieces were got on those days, and yesterday was found got, but not much, as the workmen were breaking new ground. It is to be noted, that most of what has lately been found has more alloy of silver in it than what was first got. It is fortunate for the country that the harvest was nearly got in before the mine was discovered, otherwise not a laborer could be engaged. The quantity found, cannot be nearly ascertained; for only a few will own what they have procured: a single purchaser bought 154l. worth, during Thursday and Friday last."

October 24.

From the Island of Lewis (one of the Western Isles of Scotland), we learn, that mine of gold and silver ore has lately been discovered near the richest quality,

An extraordinary malady is found among our soldiers in Canada; they lose their eyesight as fast as they are demanded. And all witnesses summoned and attending, shall be allowed the same pay for traveling and attending, as they are now allowed for traveling and attending the courts of quarter sessions.

§ 6. And be it further enacted, that no award given by the arbitrators, chosen as aforesaid, shall be set aside for want of form, when such award contains the substance of what was intended by such arbitrators. This act shall commence and be in force from and after the passage thereof.

An Act apportioning the representation among the several counties. Approved Dec. 19 1795.
